

SPANISH 1200

Advanced Spanish II: Grammar and Composition

COURSE DESCRIPTION

Spanish 1200 focuses on the acquisition of the tools necessary for successful oral and written expression in Spanish. These tools include a solid knowledge of the grammar, an ample vocabulary, control of the mechanics of the language (spelling, punctuation, etc.), and an understanding of the writing process. Throughout the semester students sharpen their skills as they analyze thought-provoking texts (short stories, essays, articles, interviews, reviews, podcasts, and films) and produce a variety of written assignments. By the end of the course, they will have developed their awareness of the norms of standard Spanish and learned to incorporate these features into their own speaking and writing. Spanish 1200 prepares students for the proficiency requirements of upper-level courses and study abroad. The class will be conducted entirely in Spanish.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

- Advanced writing proficiency in Spanish in a variety of formats
- Ability to follow a process approach to writing
- Advanced knowledge of Spanish grammar
- Expanded vocabulary and improved word choice
- Knowledge of spelling and punctuation rules in Spanish
- Ability to analyze authentic texts (linguistic structures, rhetorical strategies, and themes) and to express opinions about them
- Familiarity with several important Hispanic writers and issues

PREREQUISITES AND PLACEMENT

To enroll in Spanish 1200, you must have fulfilled one of the following prerequisites:

- Successful completion of Spanish 1000 (formerly 202)
- A score of 5 on the AP Spanish Language Exam
- A score of 5 on the IB Higher Level A (with Literature) Spanish Exam
- A score of 6 or 7 on the IB Higher Level B Spanish Exam

You must confirm your placement in Spanish 1200 by filling out the dept. credit regulation form. If you scored a 5 on the AP Spanish Literature Exam, you should register for Spanish 1800 or 1900. Further questions regarding placement should be addressed to Dr. Toni Esposito (esposito@upenn.edu), Chair of Undergraduate Studies in Spanish.

REQUIRED TEXTBOOK

Repase y escriba, 8th ed. Vista Higher Learning, 2024. Please note that you must obtain the eighth edition of the book in paperback, looseleaf or digital format. You can obtain the book directly from the publisher (<https://vistahigherlearning.com/store/school/upenn>) or through the Penn Bookstore (upenn.bncollege.com/). All new books come with the Supersite access code, which you will need for the course.

CODE OF ACADEMIC INTEGRITY

The Dept. of Spanish and Portuguese fully supports and adheres to all university policies and procedures regarding academic integrity (cheating, fabrication, plagiarism, etc.). The work that you submit in this class is expected to be your own. If you submit work that has been copied without attribution from any published or unpublished source including the Internet, or that has been prepared by someone other than you, or that in any way misrepresents another's work as your own (e.g., translation without proper attribution), you may face discipline by the university's Center for Community Standards and Accountability. For more information, consult:

Departmental Guide to Academic Integrity (available on Canvas)

GRADING DISTRIBUTION

The final grade will be determined in accordance with the following distribution:

Preparation of daily assignments, engagement in the course	15%
Compositions (4)	32%
Tests (4)	40%
Final composition	13%

GRADING SCALE

A+ 98-99	B+ 88-89	C+ 78-79	D+ 68-69
A 94-97	B 84-87	C 74-77	D 60-67
A- 90-93	B- 80-83	C- 70-73	F 0-59

Tests

There will be four tests during the semester, one after every three chapters. Test dates are given on the course calendar. We will omit nearly all of the content of chapters 8 and 10, and cover the remaining 12.

CLASS PARTICIPATION

You should prepare all textbook assignments on the VHL supersite unless your instructor indicates otherwise. Some assignments may be checked for a grade. Your participation grade will be based on your ability and willingness to demonstrate that you have studied and learned the vocabulary and grammar assigned and that you have read and reflected upon the readings. Equally important is your active engagement in class activities and discussions. For example, you must provide constructive criticism during peer review exercises.

COMPOSITIONS

Drafts and final versions of compositions must be uploaded to the course Canvas site by their due dates. Due dates for all compositions are given on the course calendar; your instructor will provide more specific instructions for these assignments. For example, your instructor may require that you also hand in hard copies of your compositions.

ATTENDANCE POLICY

It is the departmental philosophy that students in each section form a learning community so that they benefit from each other's views, positions, knowledge, and experiences. By not being present students miss the opportunity to learn from their peers and from their instructor, as well as to share their insights with them and contribute to the class. The communicative and social aspect of language is central and starts in the classroom. Therefore, given the emphasis placed on participation and interaction in this class, students are required to attend all classes.

Students who miss two classes (a week's worth) or less will not see a reduction in their final participation grade. Upon the second absence, their instructor will send them a Course Problem Notice. If they reach three absences, their final participation grade for the course will be lowered by 1.5% (out of 15%) or 10 points (out of 100 points). For each subsequent absence, their final participation grade will be lowered an additional 1.5%. Students are expected to come to class on time; repeated tardiness will be counted towards an absence (4 late arrivals equal 1 absence).

Please note that there are no "excused absences." Illness, personal emergencies, travel, participation in sports events or other university-sponsored events all count as absences. If students miss class, they are responsible for making up any work and for knowing the material covered.

All absences must be reported through the Course Absence Report system, which students can access through Path@Penn. The system should not be used for days on which exams are scheduled. If the absence is for more than a week's worth of classes, they should contact their home school's advising office for assistance and to discuss the academic implications of a longer absence.

For further information regarding attendance, consult the official College webpage on Policies Governing Class Attendance (<https://www.college.upenn.edu/attendance>). Should you have any questions or concerns, you should consult your instructor, the course coordinator, the Director of the Spanish language program or the Undergraduate Chair of Hispanic Studies.

COURSE PROBLEM NOTICES (CPNs)

In keeping with the College of Arts and Sciences policy, students may receive a CPN for any of the following reasons: (1) excessive absences; (2) frequent tardiness; (3) late or missing assignments; (4) poor performance on tests or written work; (5) weak participation in class. A copy of this notice will be sent to the student's academic advisor. Students not performing up to course standards or who may need assistance with language learning or learning and time management in general should take advantage of the following resources available on campus.

Language Direct is a free peer-tutoring program for foreign language learners at Penn. It consists of a network of peer tutors, supervised by PLC staff and language program coordinators, who assist foreign language learners through face-to-face tutoring and online help. (<https://plc.sas.upenn.edu/languagedirect>)

The Weingarten Learning Resources Center provides free professional guidance in academic skills such as academic reading, writing and study strategies. (<http://www.vpul.upenn.edu/lrc>)

The Department of Spanish and Portuguese provides a list of tutors who will tutor for a fee. (<https://spanish.sas.upenn.edu/contact>)

The David B. Weigle Information Commons (in the Van Pelt Dietrich Library Center) "supports collaborative learning and group activities using the latest technologies, provides students with group study rooms, seminar rooms, and training and equipment in the Vitale Digital Media Lab for digital media projects, including video, audio, imaging, and web publishing." (<https://www.library.upenn.edu/wic>)

The Casa Hispánica, part of the Modern Languages Residential Program of Gregory House, is located in the Class of 1925 building, 3941 Irving Street. It sponsors a program of Spanish activities, which are open to the whole campus. For further details on these activities, visit their home page.
